Pre-K 257 Class News

In our November unit, students will explore all about themselves. Now that students have done an in-depth exploration of their senses and learned to explore the world around them, they are ready to learn more about themselves and the people around them. The All About Us unit allows the opportunity for children to explore, learn about and embrace what makes them important and unique. There are important questions that we will discuss during the All About Us unit. These questions are :

- What makes me important and unique?

- What makes my class important and unique?
